

Fresh design, new technology and innovation are all evident in Buck Knives' new products for 2004. You'll be pleased to find that each one is made with the quality and integrity that's been a hallmark of Buck Knives for more than 100 years.

290/291 Rush™

The Rush is the only assisted-opening knife offered with a skeleton frame design. Our patent-pending, compact ASAP Technology™ provides easy opening and safety, plus greater freedom of design for streamlined styling. (page 6)

177 Adrenaline-SPX™

The Adrenaline-SPX is a statement in style. This sleek knife is a one-hand opening/closing, liner lock, high-tech folder. We designed a unique, modified spear point blade with black Teflon® coating and sculpted blade styling. (page 7)

173 Buck/Mayo Northshore™

Tom Mayo is a renowned custom knife maker whose creations have always been in high demand, but limited supply. The Buck/Mayo Northshore is his latest high-tech design. Based on the TNT, it's targeted at a mid-range price point. This smooth, featherweight beauty fits nicely in every pocket. (page 7)

760 Summit™

The 760 Summit, developed in collaboration with mountaineer Peter Whittaker, is our latest innovation for outdoor activities. It features a full-sized, partially serrated blade and one-handed operation. We integrated only the essential tools: a can opener, bottle opener, screw driver and corkscrew. At just 4 oz., it's destined to become a favorite in camp and on the trail. (page 11)

183 Alpha CrossLock PBS™

The newest introduction in the Alpha Hunter series combines the best of our original patented CrossLock® technology with advanced features. This folding, two-bladed, multi-function hunting knife is designed for maximum functionality and one-handed use. It's the "Total Hunter." (page 18)

882 SBT Police Utility Knife

The 882 SBT is the brainchild of our collaboration with leading law enforcement training authority Steve Tarani, and tactical experts Mick Strider and Duane Dwyer of Strider Knives. This rugged, dependable, folding police utility knife is designed to meet the specific requirements of law enforcement. (page 25)
